A little about CHO

- The Charlottesville Albemarle Airport Authority is a political subdivision of the Commonwealth of Virginia, created in 1984 by the Virginia Acts of Assembly. The Authority board consists of the City Manager, the County Executive, and one private citizen appointed from the Charlottesville Albemarle Joint Airport Commission. The Commission is an advisory group composed of seven members appointed by the Charlottesville City Council and Albemarle County Board of Supervisors.
- The CHO is a non-hub commercial facility served by three major airlines: Delta Airlines, United Airlines and American Airlines.

Purpose of the RFP:

- The Airport Authority is seeking proposals from professional firms with experience in designing, installing and maintaining inbound and outbound baggage transfer systems at commercial air passenger airports.

Existing Baggage Transfer System:

- The CHO Passenger Terminal was built in 1991 and construction included installation of the existing inbound and outbound baggage transfer systems. Changing security requirements, increased passenger demand and other events made necessary some changes to the system. Now, the age of the system and the unavailability of parts and components compel CHO to replace the entire system.

Scope of Services:

The Authority is seeking a single contractor able to provide required material and services for the inbound and outbound baggage systems. Sub-contractors may be used but must be identified in the proposal.

Project General Elements:

- Existing Baggage Systems Inventory
- Design for Replacement System
- Fabrication
- System Installation
- Staff Training
- Comprehensive system manuals and documentation
- Warranty
